Elizabeth,

I've attached the latest sharepoint version. I think if things aren't working I'd say make the changes you intend to make on this document and we can reupload and share it tomorrow am if sharepoint is back up.

It looks like there is problem with my server – or so they think this time. I do not know when I will be able to get back into the document. I was working on Unit XII when I started having show-stopping issues.

Eric, - that is the case – what can be done? I saw your email indicating that we might have tomorrow morning to finish up, but until the EZTech people get back to me, I won't even know when I will be able to get back into the system.

Could you please close the window? I am having a very difficult time using it. It keeps on throwing me out and/or freezing on me. Thanks!!
